

Transplanter efficiency
Hand-planting quality

Water Wheel Planters are a top choice for planting fresh-market crops through plastic mulch. These have the speed of mechanical transplanters and are easily adaptable to many different crops. Placing and firming plants with a "hand touch" makes the difference for a better plant set.

For more versatility on the fresh-market farm, also use for direct seeding or use on bare ground (with no plastic mulch).

Limitless possibility

Buckeye offers industry-leading features for large and small growers alike. We were the first to offer changeable plant punches and wheels with multiple plant spacings. The planter frame is adjustable to match bed spacing. Operator stations are fully adjustable for convenience and comfort - plus many more user-friendly features.
